The National Coalition Building Institute, Rochester, NY Inc. presents

WELCOMING DIVERSITY: Mastering the courage to intervene without alienating

It is critically important to speak up when witnessing bias, name calling or mistreatment of any kind. But if our desire is relationship-building, it takes courage and restraint to listen for the hurt underneath an oppressive remark and respond without blame or guilt.

Please join us to enhance your intervention skills, confidence and ally-building capacity, whether at work, at home or in the community at large.
